

Usability Test Questions: Round I

1. What do you think you could do on this website? What is this website for?
2. How do you think you would contact the company through this website?
3. Where would you go to read a story on the site?
4. If you wanted to make a story of your own, where would you go and how would you do it?

“Probing” Questions

1. So now that we’re finished, what’s your general impression of the site?
2. What aspects of the site do you think made it difficult to accomplish the tasks?
3. If you were a young child and were interested in a website for reading and writing children’s stories, would you use this specific website? Or would you prefer to use a different site that provides the same functionality? /

Think of the young children you know in your family or other areas, or imagine having younger siblings. Let’s say these children are interested in a website for reading and writing children’s stories. Would you use this website with the children? Or would you prefer to use a different site that provides the same functionality?